enemy in force.

Both expeditions were ordered to return at 9 a. M., and are now coming into camp. The enemy has been discovered in force between Bunker Hill and Winchestertheir main body occupying a line parallel with Bunker Hill and Perryville, with the right flank on the Shenandoah, covered by cavalry. The expedition under General Humphreys, from General Porter's corps which crossed at Shepardstown, pushed or twelve miles beyond Leetown, converging towards Hancock's column. They met the nine pieces of artillery, and two regiments of cavalry, beyond Kearneyville, when a spirited skirmish ensued. The enemy being forced back we lost one killed and two wounded. The rebels lost two killed and several wounded, whom they left in our possesson. Our force pushed on until they got to Leestown when they encamped and were unmolested dur-ing the night. This morning General Humphrey pushed his advance beyond Leetown, when he received orders to fall back, which has been successfully accom-plished. The enemy in his front retired upon their main body at Bunker Hill, General Hancock is returning from his reconnoissance having fully acco his object, namely, the capture of fifteen thousand bushels wheat in the possession of Union men, and having ascertained or then men, and naving ascertained more completely the position of the enemy. Our pickets pushed out this morning from Charlestown three miles on the Barrysville road, the enemy's pickets having been drawn in in that direction last night. Captain Reno made a reconnecissance to within five miles of Bunker Hill and drove in the enemy's pickets. And also an Elegant Assertment of Subsequently they were supported with artillery, when he retired. General Stuart's cavalry are on the Shenandoah river
